Shoe Box Appeal

We have started purchasing items for the shoe-box appeal. This will be for "Teams for You"

If you would like to do some knitting we would appreciate gloves or/and scarves for the older children. We have plenty hats. If you would like to buy items and need suggestions please see Elaine. Donations to purchase gifts are most welcome. We have decided this will be the last year we participate in this.

Elaine's thought for the week

On Sunday, if you are observant, you may have noticed I was wearing a dress with butterflies on. I had also read The Hungry Caterpillar to Oliver during the week. Reflecting on this story, like the caterpillar eat things that wasn't good for him, sometimes we desire things that aren't good for us and we end up in a 'cocoon' but with God's help we can emerge as a beautiful butterfly.

Ephesians 4:24

And put on the new self, which in the likeness of God has been created in righteousness and holiness of the truth.

Heavenly Father, help us this week that our thoughts and actions may be pleasing to you as a beautiful butterfly. Help us not to hide our faith in our 'cocoon' but be bold and speak out. In your precious name.

Prayer request.

Joel is improving after spending a few days in hospital with a bad case of shingles. He was allowed home on Tuesday afternoon. Thankfully he is no longer in severe pain but will take a while to recover fully and return to his normal activities.

Have you a prayer request or anything you would like to share on Providence newsletter Please let the editor's know.
